Introduction

Welcome to your Past Life report. Whereas the birth chart is a symbolic road map describing your current life, the Past Lives chart is a blueprint of your previous incarnations. The pages that follow will help shed some light on themes related to your past life instincts. First, let's talk about reincarnation which is the belief that the current incarnation (as depicted by our birth chart) is linked to the lives that we have previously led. This collection of past influences points to particular experiences you might encounter again so that you can further your growth and fully develop your creative potential. These past impressions go far in shaping many of our current thoughts and choices. There are certain gifts a person seems to possess right out of the womb! It's as though destiny or fate leads one to realize these attributes. Of course, we still have to show ambition and make the effort in order to keep our dreams alive. This report may give confirmation to talents that you already know you have or open your eyes to ones that you have yet to discover.

Our past lives are alive and well in our consciousness. This may already be apparent to you. But on the other hand, these experiences can lie beyond the threshold of our conscious mind's awareness. What is doing the remembering, if our mind isn't? Call it your soul, higher consciousness or whatever explanation feels right to you.

Have you ever heard about karma, that great law of cause and effect? An old timeless saying sums up the whole process: "You reap what you sow." There are actions and thoughts that defined us in other lives, or have guided us to where we are in the present. They don't really exert any control over us. We have freedom of choice. That's a strong message to remember when reading this report.

Also, don't panic if you read something that says you were not a perfect person. Nobody is in the current one! Use the report as a learning tool. The idea is to keep developing and evolving. It's balancing the cosmic rhythm of past and present that presents each of us with a challenge. Do we respond positively or negatively? With hope or doubt? Many of our tendencies are linked to previous incarnations. Certain patterns have likely been by our side over many lifetimes. As we grow and expand our awareness, it becomes very possible to step beyond the trappings of past life baggage.

No doubt you will read various sections that seem to contradict each other. Each could be true about you. It's important to realize that many different dimensions of ourselves live within us. Each of us is composed of memories from so many past lives, combined with an assortment of ways we have learned to deal with reality in this life, that make us complex beings. See which descriptions ring true to you as you read through the following pages. You will notice some traits described have a repeating theme. I hope you find this report an enjoyable ride into your past life instincts and thought patterns. They are somewhere in your consciousness. Perhaps some of what you read will strike a familiar chord. After all, these pages are all about your past life loves, creative pursuits, adventures, travels, highs and lows, over many lifetimes. Happy navigating!

The Past Life Chart Structure

Some technical explanations about the Past Life chart (if you detest technical discussions, then skip this paragraph and jump right into the report!). The Ascendant in this chart starts with the sign on the cusp of the 12th house, instead of the traditional method of using the sign on the 1st house cusp, which is the sign rising on the eastern horizon at the time of birth. Also, the Past Life birth chart houses are counted clockwise, rather than the conventional way of counterclockwise. In other words, since the 12th house becomes the Ascendant, the sign on the cusp of the 11th house now begins the 2nd house, etc., around the chart wheel. What is considered the Ascendant or 1st house in the traditional chart becomes the 12th in the Past Life chart. Your planets remain in the same sign placements, but now occupy different houses, in this new chart. The planets in signs are interpreted in your report from a past lives perspective.

Something interesting to consider in thinking of the houses in a clockwise direction, they are actually now moving in the same direction as the Nodes of the Moon. As you will read in the report the Moon's nodes are strong past life or karmic points in a chart. Their retrograde motion is clockwise meaning they share the same life biorhythms as the houses of the Past Life chart. By traveling backward, or clockwise, through the houses, you are being regressed back into a past life analysis. Enjoy your ride down memory filled lanes!

The Passport

In this section are the first, middle and last names of your Past Lives astrological identity, the Sun, Moon, and Past Lives Ascendant. Each of these three building blocks will be discussed as to how they actively shaped many of your former lives. But before you meet these three key players, you will start your tour through memory lane with the North Node of the Moon. The North Node contains a special message about what was your overall life purpose. It was a constant rhythm pulsating in your consciousness to keep you on target toward your true purposes. It was a celestial compass trying to guide you to walk your talk with greater clarity. So sit back, and enjoy reading your past lives primer.

Node in Gemini

You had a history of moving in multiple directions simultaneously. One of your key impulses was seeking ways to satisfy a curious mind. Your soul was normally restless to reincarnate, not so much concerned with the final objectives, as much as enjoying the life journey. The archetypal theme for your destiny was to be a stimulating force. A crucial lesson was not to get distracted from the main work to be done. Your mind couldn't help but seek paths that kept you from getting bored. Keeping your life exciting was as important to you as pragmatic realities. Losing your focus was when you had to develop concentration and discipline.

When you became too mundane, it was a normal occurrence that the gypsy within reminded you that it was time to find adventure. A trickster was that all roads led to Rome. Procrastination resulted. Finding a way to balance an insatiable hunt for knowledge while staying focused was a key to fulfillment. You required more on your mental plate than most in your incarnations. People and places awakened a spirit of adventure. Without this, you didn't feel quite right, like something important was missing. The path felt more complete when you gave yourself the freedom to keep the doors opened that led to eclectic knowledge and exhilarating opportunity.

Node in 1st house

What types of activities did you participate in that furthered your soul growth? When you took the initiative to courageously put your ideas into motion, life rewarded you. You found that waiting too long to make decisions cooled your interest quickly. A common concern was "who am I?" When you didn't panic and start looking for too much of yourself in relationships, you more easily managed to stay out of karma's way. What sorts of experiences motivated you? The freedom to act spontaneously. You had leadership qualities that people perceived to have a potential for being decisive and strategic. Your energy levels peaked when you were in a competitive mode. Indecision is what took the punch out of you. You were more fluid in movement and happier when not worrying too much about how others would respond to your actions. If you became too self-focused your fans didn't stay as loyal. Being assertive kept you on track as much as becoming too attacking made you seem like an unruly warrior. Somewhere always hiding in the caverns of your memory banks, were daredevil instincts mixed with a tinge of weighing your options. When using them wisely and appropriately, life was colored with a never-ending, adventure-filled story.

Sun: Creativity, Ego, Self-expression

Sun in Pisces:

The sign of Pisces the fish lighted the late-winter astrological skies at your birth into this life. Let's explore what significance this had in regard to your past lives. In traditional astrology the keyword phrase for Pisces is "I believe". You had a pattern linked to faith in yourself or a higher power. Your intuition was a great gift. When it was operating clearly, you could see what many others couldn't. However, when you were emotionally confused, or your belief system seriously in doubt, your intuitive ability often lay dormant.

Archetypes for Pisces include the poet, mystic, and dreamer. You were just as pragmatic in some lives as dreamy in others. Even when solid as a rock, sensitivity to life's mysterious forces was available to you, whether you used this gift or put it in storage. The cosmic principle operating in many of your past lives was denial. Don't panic. This simply means you were given a ticket to conveniently not face unpleasant issues until later. The trick was not taking this so far that you adopted the path of escapism. You came into this life solarized through a sign promoting openness to romantic ideals. This was a theme that ran throughout your lifetimes and was a key to self-mastery. In past lives you likely were an artist, healer, actor, or poet. You at least found peace and inspiration from this arena. You found ego strength when sharing love with others. You usually sought out a soul mate. It was when you created reasonable expectations for yourself, and those you loved, that your life was lived with great vitality.

Sun in 3rd house

You had solar power that went right through your mental processes in previous lives. It radiated out curiously and quickly, taking advantage of new learning opportunities. You enjoyed a sense of pride in your communication ability. People responded to your confident ideas. Your creative vitality became awakened when slipping out of the usual routines. Repetitive thinking bored you in a hurry. Changing circumstances delighted you.

If there was a challenge, it was getting distracted by walking in too many directions simultaneously. It's not that you couldn't do this successfully. You did at times lose your focus. Your perceptions were your key to opening doors of opportunity. Bouncing concepts off of the minds of others was stimulating. The exchange of information with peers or colleagues made you feel invigorated. Experiences that offered diversity were pleasing. Insightful ideas lived brightly through you. Your self-expression found inspiration through travel and education. A change of scenery was your way of keeping problems in perspective. The world responded positively to your energizing mental outlook, but less favorably when you seemed scattered. Channeling nervous energy into productive outlets was rewarding. You found fulfillment in influencing positive change in others.

Moon: Sense of Security, Roots, Feelings

Moon in Capricorn:

You were lunarized at birth through the sign of Capricorn. What does this say about your past life tendencies? An instinctual desire to trust the safety of structure as a means to success followed you from one incarnation to another. The family ancestries in past lives were linked by a serious acceptance of responsibility and ambitious drives.

Your inner landscapes were colored by a hard-working nature. Fear was the stumbling block that got in your way. When you conquered self-doubt just enough to break free, you found your true paths. You could be quite reserved, even shy, until getting to know someone. It's possible that you felt younger as you became older! You were a reliable sort. Some may have found you a little strict. The less control you exhibited, the closer loved ones came to you.

You enjoyed solitude as the atmosphere spoke to your soul. You rose into leadership positions because people trusted you. You reached the top of a profession through steady patience. Delayed gratification was not that hard for you. Being too conservative when it came to taking a risk did cost you an opportunity or two. Depression was a challenge. It was important that you didn't make your work your whole life. Another strong theme was leadership. Your subconscious called to you to stay clear of becoming rigid, and let the voice of your intuition speak as loudly as your pragmatic side.

Moon in 6th house

You had intuitive power when it came to diet and health in past incarnations. Working in these areas was stimulating. You instinctually knew which skills to learn as a means to attaining a greater sense of security. The work ethic was ingrained in you. Perhaps you wished there had been more time for play in several incarnations. Efficiency was important in your opinion. You were not fond of being criticized and were more warmly received when not so judgmental of others. Your life needed to be organized according to your own specifications. It's not necessarily that everything had to be labeled, as much as nobody messing with your sense of order.

Your moods resulted from frustration or irritability. Why? Trying to be too perfect got on your nerves and those trying to understand you. Keeping your expectations reasonable made everyone happier. Dedication to causes was another theme. You liked feeling useful. A tendency to be too compulsive about not leaving loose ends had to be watched. An inner feeling to teach your experience to others manifested in numerous lifetimes. Experiences that satisfied your pragmatic need for stability were favored.

Ascendant: Persona, Identity, Calling Card

Taurus on Ascendant:

With the sign Taurus as your past lives Ascendant, moving calmly and deliberately frequently colored your incarnations. A keen sense of the value of things was part of your usual repertoire. You appreciated beauty and owning those things that made you feel a sense of comfort. You were possessive of others. You had a natural love of nature. A fondness for serenity attracted you to people with calm dispositions. You had a past life pattern of not wanting to be rushed into decisions. A quiet pragmatism typically peered out of your eyes. You trusted more in what you could see and hear than what lay in the realm of possibilities. Your gentle persona masked an underlying intensity to grab the world by the horns. You were usually a take control type of person. It was knowing how to get what you wanted in the midst of compromising with those you loved that was one of your challenges. Your persistent determination to finish what you started was a trait. Stubbornness was another. You believed in taking the time to smell the roses.

The Quest

Mercury: Communication, Perceptions and Logic

Mercury in Pisces

You were Mercurialized at birth through the sign of Pisces pointing to highly imaginative mental impulses in past lives. Your communication style was dreamy and contemplative. The world never really measured up to your expectations. You did your best to find the niches that allowed your fantasy world to coexist with responsibilities. Escaping from everyday norms brought you to try varying lifestyles. The arts did satisfy a hunger to express a poetic and magical mind. The muses visited you frequently. The powers of your intuition went far. You did occasionally feel betrayed by your feelings and unconditional trust of others. Reality testing taught you a few lessons in knowing your limits. Often it took two professions or multiple interests to keep you happy. Divine discontent swept you away in search of more inspiring people, places, or things. You were capable of seeing into the deepest recesses of someone's mind. It was guilt that at times grew bothersome. When you sought to escape from facing your problems, life could become a disorienting maze. When you found the faith to walk your talk, people couldn't help but admire you. Addictive habits weakened your spirit in a few lives. Your spiritual quest to find a sense of unity was a motivating force. Your mental outlook was brighter when you either served meaningful causes or you found paths that kept you inspired.

Mercury in 3rd house

Your perceptions moved excitedly, giving you instant scans of whatever you encountered. Sometimes you wished you didn't get so bombarded by so many stimuli. You curiously looked out at the world anxious to explore anything even resembling an information highway. Your mind was always set to the ready-alert position to anticipate the next move to be made. Communication was a way of seeking greater stimulation. Your insights into a wide variety of situations came in handy. You regularly impressed people with your interesting way of getting a message across. You didn't like being told there was one acceptable way of doing things. Activities that gave you plenty of diversification were enjoyable. Repetitive routines made you uneasy. Some accused you of leaving jobs undone due to lack of focus. You excelled in creating shortcuts, even if once in a while you left out a few tedious details.

Venus: Relationships, Values, Comfort.

Venus in Aquarius

With the love goddess adorning you through the sign of Aquarius at birth, you came from past lives where you were in search of independently minded lovers. Many people experienced you as symbolizing freedom and uniqueness. Your social instincts were colored with a hue of spontaneity and a fondness for shocking others.

The ideal soul mate was someone able to appreciate your unique insights and willing to treat you as an equal. You were attracted to lovers able to appreciate an element of surprise and to those with a way of exciting your mind. Your relationships sometimes began in unusual ways. Rebelling against restrictions imposed upon you occurred often throughout your past lives history. Working in cutting edge professions made you feel alive. You liked working among inventive minds. Leaving behind jobs that stifled your thinking was a pattern. You did need to watch a tendency to grow too sarcastic and aloof. You detested institutions that stood for hypocrisy. Leaving behind stable lifestyles to take a chance on a risky one was a constant temptation. Being different just to be different got you into trouble.

Your future goals kept you motivated. Your romantic fulfillment depended on finding a mate with a refreshing unconventional approach to life, and having a shared desire to walk a talk that allowed for a few broken rules.

Venus in 4th house

You were cautious when interacting socially, trying to tune into the thoughts of others. A reluctance to reveal yourself openly was shown. You tended to be an emotional force in relationships, causing others to reflect about their actions. Feeling-oriented lovers attracted your attention and your attentiveness got to them. You were a privacy-minded person, not letting just anyone really get to know you. The nurturing side of you was selective as to who was going to see this.

Some accused you of being too moody, though you explained it as having intense feelings. Silent withdrawals made you hard to understand. You loved your home and were fond of plants and pets. In some ways you felt more at ease with animals and nature than you did with people. You liked to feel needed, but not drained by too many demands. Your peers perceived you to be supportive, when you allowed them to get to know you. You sometimes denied yourself of things in too austere of a way. This was sometimes due to feeling unworthy or low in spirit. You valued very much where you resided. When individuals showed they cared about you, it made you feel valuable. Protecting those you loved so that they could feel safe meant a lot to you.

Mars: Assertion, Courage, Identity

Mars in Virgo

What would a warrior planet in the earthy sign of Virgo mean regarding your past lives? Your initiating impulse was to proceed cautiously rather than leaping forward spontaneously. You could outrun anyone when you were anxious to get a job done. It's only that you wanted to make sure the coast was clear and no rocks were hidden before making the big decisions. You were impatient with the details you detested but could be meticulous with the little things if they were sniffed out as being important. A competitive spirit came alive when trying to solve a problem. You didn't give up easily, sometimes irritating those wanting you to give up sooner.

Your identity was solidified when working in professions that made you feel productive and fulfilling your potential. Criticism drove a wedge between you and those you loved. You didn't take kindly to having your life critiqued and did bother others when you pounced too harshly on their dreams. When you left the door open to creating win-win situations, guess what happened? People liked you! Angry outbursts were often the result of anxiety over trying to be too perfect. When you found confidence, you worked long hours on a project. Self-doubt doused your passion in a hurry. You had to learn how to pace yourself to maintain your health. Teaching others your skills sometimes stimulated you to think more positively. When you moved with a steady grasp of reality combined with a teaspoon of senseless wonder, the universe did smile upon you with more of its gifts.

Mars in 9th house

You took initiative when it came to adventurous risk-taking. Waiting for life to come to you wasn't your way. Your adrenaline got pumping through chasing after the distant horizons that promised excitement and expansive opportunities. A competitive side came forward when someone tried to out argue you. Fighting to defend what you believed in was done fervently and was a repeating pattern. Your faith in an idea or philosophy wasn't intimidated easily by the critics. What made you become territorial? It was due to people trying to force their way of thinking on you. Your own mental freedom was off limits to those trespassing. Those closest to you did grow upset if you became too dogmatic or judgmental. Agreeing to disagree did work wonders. Impatience caused you to repeat mistakes. Failing to slow down and think first got you into trouble. Becoming aware of the big picture made you see the turns in the road a little quicker. Assertiveness wasn't much of a problem unless you got really confused. Ordinarily you didn't hesitate to speak up for what you needed. Getting too aggressive and plundering occurred if you lost your perspective. Overall you won applause for your enterprising ways. Anger was spontaneous, fast and furious. It was better to let you vent because you were then so much easier to reason with.

Jupiter: Knowledge, Expansion, Philosophy, Travel

Jupiter in Taurus

Having Jupiter, the planet of good fortune, in the sign of Taurus indicates you enthusiastically knew how to earn money. Saving it was another story. All in all, you kept financially afloat through knowing when and how to invest. You chose to expand your potential by making good use of your resources. Sensing how to better train yourself to increase your earning power was a solid part of your past. Knowledge that could be turned into profit interested you. You liked to digest information slowly when learning. A positive attitude brought you greater abundance. Luck came through a steady persistence in making a dream come true. Watching nature performing with its panorama of colors and landscapes was your silent meditation. You felt more confidence when you had the buying capacity to get what you desired for pleasure or comfort. Travel relaxed your psyche and made your problems seem less relevant. You enjoyed people with common sense. Teaching art, dance or music was a regular occurrence. When maintaining a broad perspective you got to experience the benefit of a wider range of differing perspectives.

Jupiter in 1st house

A positive and enterprising outlook influenced you to act on hunches. Occasionally you noticed that it was been better if you were cautious before you leaped. Then again, it was your natural way to gallivant without worry about consequences of your choices. Spontaneity made you feel free. When you didn't rush to judgment, you were more trouble free. Also, it was best when you didn't exaggerate your ability. Travel was exhilarating and opened your eyes to wider possibilities. It was what your life might become that often interested you more than it was in the now. Boldness in expressing your beliefs attracted attention. You could be very persuasive when communicating your version of the truth. Luck smiled favorably upon you when making the effort to turn those doorknobs requiring extra strength. Good fortune didn't come through sitting back and waiting for it to be served.

The Journey

Saturn: Ambition, Seriousness, Focus, Responsibility

Saturn in Pisces

Ambition came through you idealistically, says your past lives history, with Saturn in the highly imaginative sign of Pisces. Discipline was not of great interest to you. You found focus and concentration after getting on the roads that inspired you to make extra effort. The arts were always special. You enjoyed showing others how to escape from everyday reality. You didn't roll up your sleeves the way many of your contemporaries did when it came to planning. Your intuition called out to you to hear its plea to take the time to follow an inner calling. This doesn't mean you always heard this little voice. But there were occasions when you miraculously changed life directions, almost in a magical way. Your greatest fear was not living out your dreams. As a matter of fact this caused you great despair when you lost hope. Though you did manage to rise above divine discontent, especially when you found meaningful relationships.

A karmic shadow was exhibiting blind faith and a lack of reality testing. You often defined yourself through aesthetic and health-oriented professions, and as someone with a sincere desire to live out their highest values.

Saturn in 3rd house

What was your main focus? It was with your ideas. You were a serious and logical thinker. You consistently asked at crucial points during an incarnation: how can I focus my powers of concentration? Whether happy or sad, you wanted control over your immediate environment. Rigidity linked to your perceptions produced karmic woes. The antidote was greater flexibility in this area, that is, when you were determined to be successful in not repeating the same old lessons needing to be learned. People liked you more when allowing divergent opinions. A fear of changing course got you into trouble. When you regained that stabilizing composure you enjoyed steady successes. Diversity kept you from getting bored.

A shadow was a fear of the unknown. Why? You liked to have solid footing. Clear definition in how to proceed is what you preferred, so you could slowly digest experiences as they came at you. It was a key to not ignore reality testing. Knowing the boundaries between taking a risk and playing it safe, were never far from the reach of your mind. A major redefining connected to your life strategies occurred regularly during lifetimes, often when you found that old plans just weren't as energizing as they once were. Wisdom came through the depth of your perceptive awareness that allowed you to see with great clarity.

Uranus: Individuality, Goals, Uniqueness, Freedom

Uranus in Virgo

You had a tendency to be analytical about future goals, indicating Uranus in the sign Virgo. Your mind did switch to fast forward when you became excited about learning new skills. It wasn't your first impulse to dive recklessly ahead into a project or new endeavor. Compulsive worry was a real challenge. Nervous anxiety was troublesome. Slowing down this side of yourself truly made your life more flowing. Inventiveness was expressed through meticulous painstaking effort. When you didn't let self-doubt rule you, your ideas gained influence and power. Maintaining a sense of direction reassured you that your footsteps were on target and gave you the confidence to request the things that you were too afraid to ask of life.

Uranus in 9th house

In what way were you unconventional? It was in the area of your highest beliefs. Your mind didn't care for limits, which got you into trouble now and then. You had futuristic vision when it came to sensing opportunities in greener pastures that allowed you to reinvent yourself. Restlessness needed to be channeled productively. Your goals were many and quite elaborate. The challenge was in knowing which to follow and when. A sense of direction changed as often as an unpredictable tornado, aligning itself with whatever was currently running through your mind. Your interests were numerous and eventually you tried to narrow the field. You were eclectic for the most part.

Argumentative as well. Freedom was defined by you as spontaneity. You didn't like your ideas to be questioned. You tended to rebel against limited minds and against those trying to impede your personal progress. Your ideals were sacred possessions that you didn't like infringed upon. You didn't like to look back at the past as it interfered with your momentum. You didn't find compromise something that came easily. Also, you fought the thinking of someone else if it wasn't congruent with your own. You sometimes became judgmental or preachy if you thought your own truths better than that of everyone else. You were inventive when developing an expansive plan that gave you a chance to incorporate all of your ability.

Neptune: Idealism, Romanticism, Intuition, Dreams, Escapism

Neptune in Scorpio

You believed in ideals that spoke to the passion within you.

Your idealism was awakened through finding symbols that gave you a sense of rebirth. Crisis situations were the catalyst that made you use your intuition. The mystical forces of the universe often spoke to and through you. It was not unusual for you to go on silent retreats where you went into deep meditative experiences. Romance had its highs and lows. Balancing the extremes was important. You liked passionate relationships with a bit of mystery surrounding them. Though eventually you often looked for a comforting bond. A lack of trust caused you emotional upheavals. It was reassuring when you found a lover understanding your innermost needs.

A major challenge was addiction to love, sex, and other forms of escape. This isn't saying you always fell into these behaviors. When you found the clarity and strength to channel this intensity positively, life was more enjoyable. You wanted from the deepest part of your soul to create a life that reflected your self-mastery. You had strong dedication to those you loved and a determination to show the world your talents. You found transcendental growth through dealing with unfinished business from the past, and walking forcefully toward the challenges you instinctually knew would scare and fulfill you at the same time.

Neptune in 7th house

How were you extra intuitive? It was about people. You could often see right into the soul of someone, unless you were emotionally confused. You sought out a soul mate or those individuals sharing your values. You were sensitive in that you occasionally felt like others could see right through you. Selecting good partners usually took a lot of practice. You became mesmerized by exotic lovers or by those people with great charisma. Relationships often began mysteriously. Love was a driving force in several lives. Your idealism was a catalyst in getting others to move after their own dreams. You had great hopes of finding a special partner, sharing many of your beliefs.

A test was developing clearer boundaries in relating to others. You didn't really care so much about reality when you were intoxicated with a lover. It did become necessary to get grounded if you were used and abused repeatedly. In a life or two there was a tendency to get addicted to someone. Making a plan come true, even if it was a long shot, occurred when feeling the inspiration of your beliefs. Your spirituality was what aligned you with the paths that brought out your highest potential. What was the biggest challenge? It was getting lost in a relationship. You could get too consumed by surrendering to what someone else expected you to be. Happiness came faster when you had balanced dependency needs. Faith transformed your denial into a greater self-image. You searched for a purpose that launched your creative gifts.

Pluto: Personal Power, Self-mastery, Rebirth, Loss, Passion

Pluto in Virgo

Empowering yourself through using analytical ability was a past lives tendency. Perfection drove you on to try to do great things. Being reasonable in your expectations was wise. Extreme worry was sometimes a downfall. Curbing this tendency did make you happier and allowed for greater productivity. Charisma was exhibited through working forcefully at whatever you made your life mission. Escaping into projects made you less nervous. There was a habit of putting your heart and soul into a cause. There was a shadow. What was it? Criticism. You could spot if something was out of place in a second. You did at times overly pick apart yourself or others. When you got this one under control, good fortune was never far away. Self-mastery was discovered through deciphering the ways to work smarter rather than harder. You found rebirth or a sense of fulfillment when overcoming negative thought patterns, and seeing that altered perceptions were truly miracles.

Pluto in 9th house

How did you go about seeking personal empowerment? It was through maintaining a broad-minded vision of what you were trying to accomplish. You were emphatic about keeping your options open. A renewed sense of purpose was discovered through venturing out into territory that was foreign to your normal way of learning. Whether being educated traditionally or unconventionally, you had a passionate yearning to put your knowledge to work. A powerful self-examination manifested itself when your faith in yourself or others was shattered by a calamity. You had to regain your resolve to move on. Making peace with the past usually paid dividends later. Relocating was sometimes your way of starting over. A compulsive tendency to put all of your eggs into a single dogmatic philosophy did make you difficult to tolerate. If you alienated too many people, this got you to ask thought-provoking questions. You were easier to like when accepting views that didn't always agree with your own. A shadow frequently followed you into incarnations: running from commitments. It doesn't mean you never were successful in this area. It is only saying there was an impulse to sometimes leave if people wanted you to come closer. When you faced your fear, relationships and other life roles were more enjoyable.

Footnotes

You have already been introduced to the ten planets. Certain planetary pairs in your chart have a special relationship to one another due to particular angular distances separating them, known as aspects. You could say the two planets in an aspect travel and interact together along the same circuit. The following aspects will be listed under five types. Two are known as the soft aspects: the sextile (60 degrees) and trine (120 degrees). These two aspects generally point to more gentle themes, and therefore will describe past life trends that went very well for you. They indicate a lower voltage of electricity and produced less friction in your mind and through your actions. The planets involved in a trine or sextile are more likely to talk about areas where you flowed without much effort. The more hard or intense aspects are the conjunction (0 degrees), square (90 degrees) and opposition (180 degrees). They required your best understanding in past lives. Planets that are part of an intense aspect you will notice often indicate lessons that must be learned, and follow us from one incarnation into another until we get them in balance. These higher voltage aspects don't mean the planets operated negatively, only that there was much more force behind them. "Soft" does not mean good and "intense" does not imply bad. It is often the more intense aspects that deepen our soul growth, that is, if we learn how to use their power wisely. If we don't it's like taking one step forward and three back.

It might be helpful to keep some keywords in mind for the aspects. The sextile represents Excitation and Eagerness. The planets in this aspect give clues as to how their energies worked in a stimulating way through you. The trine is a special Harmony. The two planets involved show you were confident of their interacting energies. The conjunction is where two planets are joined at the hip. There is a Fusion or powerful blending of these energies. The square can reveal where you encountered Friction. Pay special attention to these aspects in particular because they denote themes that are strong past patterns. Squares ask us to resolve their conflict by finding creative outlets. The opposition requires a Balancing act. It is similar to a seesaw. Gaining objective awareness about each planet is a key. Remember, it was usually the most intense aspects that stretched you the most in past lives.

Sun conjunct Mercury

You could think fast on your feet. Mental flashes quickly darted across your mind. Some thought you nervous, others brilliantly witty. Details either fascinated you or made you feel crazy. A sense of order was desired so you could clearly decipher how to manifest your creativity. There was a serious meticulous side, combined with a perception of life's absurd ironies. Communication was an area you always could declare bragging rights. If you talked without careful thinking, you did get into trouble. At least one critiquing eye constantly peered out its socket, analyzing fact from fiction. It was critical that you were harder on a problem than on yourself or those you loved.

Sun conjunct Saturn

You were all business when you needed to be. Determining where to put your best effort was challenging. How you dealt with success and failure was a key to happiness. Celebrating the milestones was a pleasant relief because it meant all of your hard work paid off. It was rejection that dampened your spirits, sometimes causing depression. Issues with your father followed you from one incarnation to another. It doesn't mean this was always a bad relationship, only that it was a sensitive one. Professional ambition was a big player. The work ethic was intense. A slow steady effort toward your desired aims clicked. Fear is what got in the way, the kind that chills us to the bone. Overcoming anxiety about displaying your ability was vital to realizing your happiness. You had power when you tapped into your strength. Trying to prove something to others never really was all that productive. You were not the best in revealing your feelings or in delegating jobs to others. When you relaxed into the roles you enjoyed, life was flowing. Wisdom came from learning through experiences. The wise use of power kept you free from many unnecessary struggles.

Sun oppose Uranus

Your connections to people were exhilarating. A roller coaster ride wasn't so uncommon as stability wasn't easy to have. You fell in love when you least expected it. People liked your creative energy as it made them think more inventively. You weren't really a stabilizing force, but had great objectivity that gave others insight into their situations. You breathed refreshing energy. Equality was what you needed in all partnerships. Having your personal autonomy respected was a must. You didn't trust closeness, and had a great desire for freedom. You had thoughts that were ahead of their time. It was your inner restlessness that made patience a challenge.

Mercury conjunct Saturn

Serious thinking became a dominant force usually before you knew it. You were capable of long-term focus that enabled you to accomplish very difficult tasks. If you managed not to try to overly control situations they were more enjoyable. Business perceptions were very strong and accurate. If you were terribly disappointed over a failure or rejection, depression often resulted. Getting through this dilemma took patience and it didn't hurt if there were helpful allies. You always needed to be careful in demanding success according to a rigid plan. Flexibility was the best policy. Being your own person required you to break free from the rules established by others.

Mercury oppose Uranus

Inventive and progressive minds excited you. Those talking and thinking too slowly annoyed you. Your ideas either stimulated others, or made them very nervous. It was the poignant way you said things that got others to react strongly. You had great insights that helped you plan for the future. Restlessness with everyday reality required that you channel your energy carefully. People delighted in your friendship but feared your seeing their true motives. You were happier when maintaining a sense of direction and freedom. You got better results in respecting someone's need for autonomy. There weren't too many dull moments tolerated.

Mercury oppose Pluto

Relationships brought out your mental intensity. You sized people up as fast as a cat's eyes adjust to the dark, and that's fast! People watching was fun as you tried to figure out what motivated them. You took your time in really letting down your guard. Manipulating situations did occasionally backfire. When it came to lovers and friends it was better to talk straight. You had certain secrets never shared with anyone unless it was a close confidante. Mystery and intrigue surrounded you. Balancing a need for privacy with a fondness for stimulating exchanges with others was required. You possessed a mental toughness that helped you survive loss or a crisis. Processing your interactions with individuals took considerable time. Forgiving someone tested your courage. Letting go of hurtful past memories was freeing. Meeting thought-provoking people started you on a road to an incredible rebirth.

Venus square Jupiter

Exaggerating your ability didn't make people like you. Though in the business world it got your foot in the door. You loved to travel and often met lovers this way. A restless spirit made you want to see the world. When you stayed open to new learning, life was more flowing. You tended to promise too much to those you loved. It was in trying to meet these high expectations that got you into trouble. When you were truthful and grounded, you were capable of great things. Self-confidence came forward strongly when you discovered your life passions. Remembering not to ignore reasonable limits was a lesson needing to be learned. If you kept your reality check hat on, you achieved great things.

Venus square Neptune

You expected the world to fulfill your dreams. It often did! When it didn't, you sometimes ran toward escapism. You had a romantic drive to find those lovers sharing your same dreaminess. What you didn't count on was meeting someone not able to live up to the beauty you knew was in him or her. When you did find a special soul mate, much was accomplished together. You often had the blessing of the muses in the arts. You were usually born with a special flair to intuitively be quite creative. Your emotions were tested greatly by love and the people you cared about the most. It was your faith in your values and a higher power that got you through the tough times. When you refused to look within for answers, you were miserable. Life was generous in that when you developed inner strength your ideals found expression. The trick was modifying the extremes. Maintaining a stable lifestyle was better for your physical and psychological health.

Mars trine Jupiter

You had a way of getting others wrapped up in your interests. Self-confidence made your luck. You had good fortune at times when the odds said you shouldn't. Taking risks was a constant temptation. You were better than most at gambling, but needed to know your limits. You were self-motivated and had a lively delivery when it came to sharing knowledge. Your optimism was contagious.

Mars square Node

When you veered too far from the right paths, life slapped you in the face. It was a wake up call. When walking your talk, clearly the conflict wasn't as abrupt. Living in extremes could occur before you knew what happened. You had a tendency to move fast instinctively, which sometimes worked beautifully. There were occasions when you had to retrace your steps due to lack of foresight. You caused many of your battles through unconscious actions that infuriated others. Though in all fairness, even when you were as clear as the brightest sunny day, enemies challenged your strength. There were lives where you withdrew from struggles. The burnout or exhaustion was replaced with a revitalized self. You had a knack for sensing danger on the horizon. This made you better prepared to defend yourself. A spiritual awakening changed you drastically making you desire to take a burning intensity to a higher level of expression.

Jupiter oppose Neptune

When you met that special someone, it was as though you already knew each other. This happened when you met your soul mate. Romance was pure escape and was the muse you needed to be creative. Intuition was the sword you used to cut through the illusion. You found faith when having the courage to express your ideals. This wasn't easy when your vision was out in front of your contemporaries. Relationships tested your idealism and could be hurtful. Blind faith sure got you into trouble. You realized that the way to happiness when seeking love was in getting clearer about who was best for you. Reality testing proved wise.

Jupiter trine Pluto

Your show of faith empowered people. Your own confidence blossomed through finding the paths to self-mastery. You did need to exercise good judgement in taking risks. Knowing your limits was testy.

Saturn oppose Uranus

Balancing practicality and unconventionality either made you wise or feeling fragmented. Taking your time and making conscious choices served you better than when you threw logic out the window. Even the revolutionary side of you was more on the money when you took the time to think through options rather than fighting with no sense of direction. Commitments either gave you greater definition or felt suffocating. Knowing what experiences wouldn't stifle your freedom took trial and error. It was in not learning from past mistakes that you suffered the most. What was a key challenge? Your fear of change as it made you indecisive. When you felt in control of new circumstances, it calmed you down. Breaking away too quickly from good situations was due to not trusting they would stand the tests of time. Wisdom eventually showed you how to hold onto the best things, if you really listened.

Uranus conjunct Pluto

Choosing unique paths that were empowering without alienating others was the big challenge. Following sudden whims and impulses was not a stabilizing factor. Finding friends and lovers that understood your need for plenty of space was important, otherwise you didn't have many close ties. Maintaining a clear sense of purpose wasn't easy, either due to attracting strong willed individuals into your life, or constantly changing your mind. Developing insight and being open to really seeing someone else's point of view kept you on track. Balance in sharing power with others lessened the tension and made for harmony.

Uranus square Node

Following your own whims about the future swept you up with great force. You didn't believe in looking back at the past. The hopes of tomorrow were your reality. Commitments were hard to keep as you quickly felt the pull of a new plan. It was growth-promoting when you offered to be there for those needing you. Instant karma resulted when you refused to learn from yesterday's errors in judgment. You had an inventive and rebellious streak. You could be difficult to understand, which was quite true when becoming too eccentric. Your ideas didn't fit conveniently in with those you loved. When compromising even a little it took the tension out of your relationships. When you gave up too much of your independence, you sensed something was horribly wrong. Finding that center between being reasonable and going after your personal choices took great objective discretion.

Uranus trine Ascendant

You had ideas that were ahead of your time, but chose not to act on many of them. Why? Because you didn't want to be so disruptive. You had a knack for tuning into future trends.

Pluto square Node

You either got what you wanted, or died trying. You sometimes feel like forcing life to comply with your demands. Sometimes you did accomplish what many wouldn't have dared to try. Letting go of the past was a struggle. You went through a slow death when losing a loved one or a job. Abundance came when you expressed your true passions. Compulsive lust and greed took you down the wrong roads. Backtracking came when you saw that there would be no stability without converting negative tendencies to your advantage. Moderation was hard to realize. You were fortunate when finding the clarity to get a handle on extremes. People were attracted to your intensity. Your determination to make things happen was big. A rebirth occurred when you walked through doors that gave you a clearer picture of what your larger purpose was all about.

Pluto trine Ascendant

Channeling your energy carefully kept you out of harm's way. Life was more apt to reward you with its gifts when you walked with broad vision. You had power through a sense of tuning into the paths that led to abundance.

Just as the Ascendant in the Passport section that began this report was described as a sign serving a special purpose, each of the other eleven houses has a sign that helps define its meaning. What follows is a trip through each of the other past lives houses or environments to give you a view of additional characteristics. First are listed the keywords for each house.

2nd House: Comfort, values, money, ownership.

Pisces on 2nd house:

You valued being a dreamer and cherished your ideals. Your idealism caused you to act without common sense occasionally. Those wanting what you owned took advantage of

you. Occasionally you made unsound investments. It was essential on the psychological level that you had high self-esteem. Believing in your capability made for smoother traveling. Clearly defined self-expectations proved better than having no plan. You blocked your chance for abundance when exhibiting no faith in your ability. A challenge was not giving up your dreams without solid effort to make them real.

3rd House: Perceptions, learning, communication, insight.

Aquarius on 3rd house:

Speaking your mind freely was what you were in the habit of doing. Living in the present was no fun unless very stimulating. You got bored easily with routines. Rebelling against business as usual was more like it. New discoveries excited you. Authority seemed like something to question. A fast mind possessing insight was your pattern. You detested being trapped by the past. Even the present created anxiety if you felt confined. Freedom ran hurriedly through your brain synapses. Communication breakdowns occurred when you suddenly had a hard time accepting someone else's version of reality. Aloofness caused discord. When you showed feelings people drew closer. You were challenged to find suitable outlets for an intelligence that defied being easily labeled.

4th House: Home, security, nurturing, roots.

Aquarius on 4th house:

Closeness and distance was a challenge. You liked the feeling of companionship and a trusted partner. Then again, you liked your breathing room. Balancing these two tendencies wasn't easy. You had to find the courage to let your unique ideas be known. Your sense of security leaned on your determination to be a free and independent thinker. Showing others you needed them brought them closer. If you became too distant emotionally, life was a lonelier place. Clearly established dependency needs proved wise.

5th House: Self-expression, creativity, confidence, romance, risk-taking.

Capricorn on 5th house:

You tended to work hard first and play later. Eventually you learned that it was best to reward yourself for giving your best efforts. Through a carefully disciplined approach you did accomplish a great deal. Stage fright bothered you when put into situations out of your element. You were more fun when not so serious. Depression got the best of you when too attached to the results of your actions. Nobody wins all of the time wasn't easy for you to accept. Your strength shined through when the going got tough. You did see that choosing your battles wisely was the road to increased happiness. Power struggles were commonplace. Sensitivity about your reputation was another trait. It meant a lot to you to be known as an authentic person.

6th House: Learning skills, work environment, perfection, diet, health.

Sagittarius on 6th house:

You were impatient with the details. The expansive opportunities called to your soul. Others might have had to pick up after you. Patience came after you satisfied an insatiable curiosity to fill your mind with as much new information as possible. You could be easily angered by the narrow-minded. If you became too isolated within your own truths, people did not find you as much fun. It's when you showed tolerance for differing points of view that you were well rounded. Knowledge was next to god in your eyes. You couldn't stomach serving causes or leaders that lacked morality. You suffered the consequences of defending your principles. Though there was no other way to live according to your own standards. Hasty judgments distanced you from friends and lovers. An open mind guided by a gentle wisdom was what brought the biggest rewards your way.

7th House: Relationships, marriage, partnerships, social awareness.

Scorpio on 7th house:

You were possessive in relationships. An attraction to intense people was a trend. Sharing power with people was a challenge. When you were aligned with the right individuals you formed a dynamic duo. You didn't mince words when you wanted to impress your will on others. You had to watch a tendency to manipulate situations. Forgiveness always played a large role in determining successful outcomes of romances or friendships. Your sense of commitment depended on the level of trust established. Those with hidden agendas made you angry. Learning from past mistakes usually did help you get back on the right path. Also, not dedicating your life solely to a lover was wise. Creating a life without constant extremes made your existence much more pleasurable.

8th House: Power, joint resources, rebirth, passion, self-mastery.

Virgo on 8th house:

So what if you were overly worried about money? You couldn't help it if your mind instinctively kept one eye on what was in the bank. Surrendering to compulsive worry got you into trouble. It did help when you learned to trust that life would be good to you. Staying above negative thoughts was the key. When moody, you could launch a verbal attack. When not hiding your feelings there was less of a tendency to explode. A humble way of asking for forgiveness won back your friends and lovers.

9th House: travel, learning, philosophy, knowledge, optimism.

Leo on 9th house:

Optimism carried you through adversity. You grew bored when not challenged. A quest for knowledge and learning typically played an integral part in your happiness. Your self-confidence convinced others of your ability. Overconfidence did occasionally lead you to attempt dangerous risks. An undaunted determination to leap over tall buildings sometimes got you into trouble. You weren't one to wait for others to give you permission to try new endeavors. People found you inflexible regarding your most sacred beliefs. When you were open to the ideas of others, greater chances for growth occurred. Seeing the humor in life's ironies was good for your health and sense of well being. Self-centeredness did offend some. Though your willingness to believe in those you adored usually kept them loyal allies.

10th House: Professions, ambition, leadership, focus, commitments.

Leo on 10th house:

Leadership roles made you feel you were in the driver's seat. People either liked the way you took control of situations or were angered by it. Either way, you did exert a very visible presence when you were determined to make your ideas known. Taking pride in your accomplishments defined you. What might have gone wrong with this dynamic energy? It was not knowing when to stop forcing your will on others. A steady and focused movement toward ambitions was your usual mode of operation. Having things on your own terms was what you preferred. People wished you didn't always have to get your own way. Finding a big enough stage to act out roles was a constant challenge. You had to fight those trying to limit your self-expression. Not having your talents noticed was always a bitter pill to swallow. You normally didn't wait for others to take notice. You were delighted when loved ones showed unconditional faith in your abilities. You showed impatience with those doubting you. Lack of success wasn't in your vocabulary.

11th house: Goals, individuality, freedom, inventive, progressive, unique.

Cancer on 11th house:

You were quite sensitive about getting support for your goals. It only caused trouble when you didn't follow through, due to looking over your shoulder for approval. You did alienate others if you grew too resentful without good reason for there not always agreeing with you. You relied on your intuition greatly to guide you into the future. A fear of the future could be cast aside when you released your creative power. Sometimes it was overcoming irrational fears that brought out your self-confidence. Learning to not overly intellectualize your feelings was a test.

12th house: Idealism, intuition, escape, faith, beliefs.

Gemini on 12th house:

You were a person that followed multiple dreams. You had to realize that you couldn't please everyone. Your intuition was complicated by the fact that it was under the close watchful scrutiny of your conscious mind. When you learned how to calm the voice of doubt within you, the world was a happier place in your opinion. You sometimes hid from the world, disillusioned by its reality. This was when it seemed too harsh a place to live. Keeping a sober perspective without sacrificing your ideals was the true challenge. Planets in actuality never really move backward, but can appear to do so. This is referred to as retrograde motion, and as you will read has special past life meaning surrounding a particular planet's symbolism. The following are planets that were moving retrograde at your birth with a description as to how this played out for you in other incarnations.

Mars retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had a challenge in determining the ways to express your warrior nature. What does this mean? Well for starters, in lives where you were too aggressive, you had to learn how to tone down your demands. What about the lives you weren't so direct? You needed to get more outspoken. The idea was to land somewhere in the middle on the assertion scale. You were happiest when sensing how to act spontaneously, with an instinct that didn't trample over the people in front of you. Actually, maybe it's more accurate to say your friends, family and lovers were ecstatic when you had great awareness of the impact of your movements and choices. If you became too timid in behavior, you tended to get confused. People took advantage of you. If you were a fighter with no sensitivity, the battles may have been won, but sooner or later a faster or better shooter caught up with you. There was excitement in overcoming challenges. You didn't really like losing control of your anger. When you stuffed it back it did explode. Knowing this slowed down or sharpened your response time. Your impulse to initiate new directions was at its best when guided by your intuition. Your raw energy to be a creative was aroused when finding the courage to transcend the obstacles in front of you.

Uranus Retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you had unique goals, reserved just for you. When you didn't do this, life lacked meaning. When you solely served your own purposes this caused quite a ruffle in the feathers of those you loved and cared about. Finding the midstream worked the best regarding these two extremes of sacrifice and doing your own thing. Your ideas sent shock waves at times when individuals or collective bodies didn't like the message. You did sometimes tap into a collective trend before it became in vogue. It did make you nervous about how you might be judged. Many ideas were kept internalized until you were sure the coast was clear and safe enough to present the notions. Were you ever more outwardly disruptive? For sure! This usually occurred when you were so aroused by injustices or thinking restrictions imposed upon you. There was a need to perceive with fore thought, which fights were worth the struggle. Being different just to be different or starting conflicts with no purpose, were ways you took many steps in the wrong direction. Listening to cues from the universe on which directions promised accelerated growth was wise. Your vision of the future was as strong as the ability to remember what gave your imagination an electrifying sensation. Patience took effort!

Neptune Retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern that you needed to watch out what you asked life for. Do you know why? Because you were apt to get it! A tendency to have a strong intuitive quality was a past pattern. In some incarnations you were quite the poet, artist, entertainer or mystic. Perfection wasn't so nice to you in that divine discontent was troublesome, making it a challenge to be satisfied. When you were reasonable or grounded, life was simpler. Getting focused occurred after becoming inspired. There were times when you had premonitions of things to come. This either gave you great faith or was scary. The more you accepted your sixth sense, the easier it was to express outwardly. Another challenge was achieving discipline and utilizing reality testing. When you made a commitment not to run away from conflict, you found clarity. When letting your ideals guide you, life seemed more magical and full of inspiring symbols. Belief in a higher power sustained you through many tough challenges. Lovers were inspirational in stimulating your creativity. You liked the idea of a special someone with whom to share your dreams. Developing a spiritual understanding and a sacred place within kept you walking on the straight and narrow with great awareness, pointing you to pleasurable escapes, and kept you guilt-free.

Pluto retrograde:

It was a repeating pattern to know your way around Intensity Street. In some lives you were overpowering. In others, you didn't usurp enough power. Having a sense of empowerment was crucial to reaching self-mastery. Survival instincts you possessed. Being emotionally intense was a past pattern. Learning to communicate your feelings made you easier to understand. Self-honesty was liberating but it was a test to admit your faults. Defensiveness had to be conquered. You didn't believe in going halfway when exploring a subject. Compulsive lusts for riches and leadership sometimes brought out your worst manipulative traits. You were happier when feeling inwardly secure and having allies that you could trust. You had to beware of an urge to win at all costs. You found rebirth through not fearing your own shadows, and being big enough not to run from those you loved. You processed experiences long after they occurred, revisiting the past often, healed when able to embrace forgiveness. Hopefully you have enjoyed your tour through this report. Remember that astrology's language is a great teacher. There are many other reports that you can explore.
